UNUSUAL LIQUOR ACTION.

Prosecuting Attorney of Adair County Would Stop Shipping Liquor There.

Prosecuting Attorney G. C. Weatherby has started in Adair county a bit of liquor proceedings which probably is the most revolutionary proceeding of the kind ever started in the state, says the Kirksville Express. It is nothing less than the obtaining of a temporary injunction to prevent the Dick Brothers brewery of Quincy and the Quincy, Omaha & Kansas City railroad from shipping liquor into Adair county, which is a dry county.

The temporary injunction was granted Monday. The first fight will come on Friday of this week, when attorneys for the brewery and railroad undoubtedly will move that the restraining order be quashed.

The action of Mr. Weatherby is entirely without precedent in the state and is based on no new law. So was the power of county courts to refuse pool hall license without precedent until a short time ago.

Mr. Weatherby is basing his action upon a contention that in shipping liquor into Adair county, the railroad and brewery are knowingly aiding in the maintenance of places for the illegal sale of liquor and as these places are nuisances, the brewery and railroad are partially responsible and upon such grounds can be restrained by injunction from making the ship-

The prosecutor holds that the brewery people and the railroad know that Adair is a "dry" county and that they would also know that a shipment of several cases or barrels of beer or other intoxicants to a druggist or restaurant man or to any one person could be for only one purpose, illegal

SOME ROAD RULES

(Continued from Page 1) the drag may work close to the center itself. Small ridges of earth will be thrown in the horse track and smeared by the round side of the log smoothly over the road. The smearing of the earth by the drag is called "puddling, and it tends to make the surface of the road smooth and watertight after the sun comes out. The road is always dragged after it has rained and not when it is dry. A good, strong pair of horses with a well built drag can drag about 3 or 4 miles of road in a day, and it is the best way to maintain good roads. In every county some farmers along each four miles of road should own a drag and drag the road when it rains. He would always find he road in good condition when he goes to market.

Mr. Vick gained a wide reputation for his business efficiency through the way in which he handled the funds of the Democratic national committee. The post to which he has been appointed is one of the most important in the gift of the administration, because all the fiscal affairs of Santo Domingo come under the supervision of the receiver general. Marine Telescope.

Make an oblong narrow box out of four pieces of quarter-inch board about two feet long by sixteen inches wide and fit a piece of clear, clean glas across one end, held in place by brass headed tacks, driven into the woo and overlapping the glass. Fill all th cracks with sealing wax to keep ou the light. Then plunge the glass end two or three inches into the water and look through the open end. This sim ple marine telescope is made on the principle of the more elaborate glasses through which to look at the famous gardens under the sea near the Catalina islands.--Christian Herald.

"Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live."

Amos 5:14. T is safe to say that everybody is seeking good, and not evil. Everybody is seeking pleasure and not misery-happiness, and not woe. The difficulty is that our judgments are more or less perverted. Some bave greater wisdom than others; but there is none perfect, "none righteous, no, not one." All come

The difficulty is that we were all born in sin, and are all misshapen. Not only our bodies are imperfect, but our brains are unbalanced-some one way, some another. Consequently young men and

School teachers' op The teachers of our schools have a most wonderful opportunity for influencing the course of humanity. lent ideals, and are using their opportunities for blessing their pupils. Yet evidently many of them have but a slight appreciation of their privileges. Some, of course, like the remainder of the world, are selfish, and think of point-so much work, so much pay. The first and chief responsibility for children rests upon their parents, the majority of whom, no doubt, to some extent recognize that responsibility in under the difficulties of their own ignorance. They know not the proper course to take for themselves. Their lives have been a succession of blunders, and they presume that their children must blunder similarly. Not see- Chico, Cal. New Issues Now-New Temptations. Our lesson tells of a time in the history of Israel when many of the nation's wisest and most brilliant people had settled down to ease and luxuryself-gratification. They considered that These lands are sold one fifth down. they had won in the battle of life, and balance to be paid in crops. told them that woes would result.

The mission of Amos was to call at tention to the fact that aggressive selfishness had accumulated great riches. that the wealthy were living in luxury, and that these conditions fostered pride and moral laxity amongst the wealthy; while the poor were being filled with avarice, losing respect for God, religion, truth and mercy. Society was on the edge of a volcano, and God de clared that an eruption was at hand.

Present Day Conditions Correspond. Our lesson is not inappropriate to our times. Notwithstanding the progress made, notwithstanding the philan thropic sentiments of many, inside and outside Christian denominations, nevertheless there is Wealth brings increased opportunity for sin in its various forms, including debauching.

The luftuence upon the poor is notaimagine erroneously that the rich and indolent are finding it, while they themselves seek in vain. Thus the poor, surrounded by the wonderful blessings of our day, are often miser able, because their minds are discontented. They desire happiness, and believe that they can obtain it only through wealth. The result is that their hearts are filling with anger, malice, and jealousy of the rich.

Both rich and poor need to learn the great lesson that pleasure lies, not in self-indulgence, but in self-sacrificehow long could you keep on eating it, in service of others. God's Message to both classes is, "Seek righteousness
